Serving Career and Technical Education Students in North Carolina

Learning that works for America CTE™

As a career educator for more than 30 years in North Carolina and a Career and Technical Student Organization (CTSO) adviser for the majority of these years, I value the impact of CTSOs. DECA, FBLA, FCCLA, FFA, HOSA, Skills USA and TSA provide our students multiple opportunities to network in their field. In high school I developed and excelled in the business skills that led me to choose my career path in college and career. As our students prepare themselves for their future in education or the job market, equipping them to find their career path and to be competitive in the marketplace are two of the many benefits to belonging to a CTSO.

I have seen directly how CTSOs have impacted students' lives in multiple ways. By attending local, regional, state and national events hosted by their CTSOs, our students learn to network socially and professionally and develop leadership skills necessary to succeed in their career field and life. Our goal is for each of our students to be able to compete globally in the 21st century and find gainful employment in their field. CTSOs provide positive opportunities for our students to meet these goals by building leadership, public speaking skills, technical competencies and self-confidence.

In North Carolina over 104,000 work-place credentials have been earned by students enrolled in business, health science, marketing, family and consumer science, technology, agriculture, and trade and industry education courses.

It is, indeed, my pleasure to be a part of the North Carolina Career and Technical Education team serving the Career and Technical Education students! Take a look at some of the exciting initiatives taking place in North Carolina!

CTE STATE OVERVIEW

At the secondary level, CTE is delivered through comprehensive high schools; CTE-focused high schools, which teach core academic subjects in the context of specific career training; career academies and STEM education and thematic schools, which teach academics and technical subjects around a career focus; and early/middle college schools, which allow students to simultaneously earn a high school diploma and an associate's degree or up to two years of credit toward a bachelor's degree.

At the postsecondary level, CTE is delivered through the state's community colleges.

506,705
SECONDARY

150,962
POSTSECONDARY

94%
of CTE high school
students graduated.

76%

goals for technical skills.

78%
remained enrolled or transferred to another postsecondary institution.

CAREER AND TECHNICAL STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS IN NORTH CAROLINA

Career and Technical Student Organizations extend Career and Technical Education in North Carolina through networks of programs, business and community partnerships and leadership experiences at the school, state and national levels. Career and Technical Student Organizations provide North Carolina students with opportunities to apply academic, technical and employability knowledge and skills necessary in today's workforce.

CTSOs serve a total of 74,288 North Carolina students through DECA, FBLA, FCCLA, FEA, FFA, HOSA, SkillsUSA and TSA. For a report of CTSO participation by each school, please see the section in this document.

PERKINS FUNDING

North Carolina received $32,524,684 for Fiscal Year 2013, $3 million less than in 2012 and $6.4 million less than in 2010. Of funds distributed to local programs, 67 percent go to secondary recipients and 33 percent to postsecondary recipients.

Learning that works.

Nine organizations. One common mission.

Career and Technical Student Organizations (CTSOs) provide the American education system the tools to educate the student for college and careers in ways that are uniquely American. By integrating into Career and Technical Education programs and courses, CTSOs extend teaching and learning through networks of programs, business and community partnerships and leadership experiences at the school, state and national levels with different opportunities to learn academic, technical and employability skills, which American business and industry say are necessary in today's workforce.

Connecting classrooms to a large network.

Each of the nine CTSOs focus on specific career fields and tailors their programing to the students, teachers and businesses in those fields. With its singular focus on a specific set of career areas (Career Clusters), each CTSO develops partnerships with business and industry, teachers and colleges and at the local, state and national levels that support and enhance student development in unique ways.

Each organization operates independently with school-based chapters, state-based associations and national offices creating opportunities and experiences that a school or even a state could not achieve on their own.

At the national, state and local levels, CTSOs offer diverse programming that is designed to enhance classroom instruction and four common organizational goals: academic and career achievement, leadership development, professional development; and community service.

At the local level, CTSO chapters operate as in-school, co-curricular programs led by CTE teachers as advisers in middle schools, high schools and postsecondary institutions.

The U.S. Congress has specifically authorized CTSOs in the Perkins Act, and they operate as national not-for-profit organizations divided into state associations and local school chapters. Funds from the Perkins Act can be used to support local CTSOs.

Students are the core of each organization.

Students participating in CTSOs learn contextualized academic instruction and have the opportunity to work in settings where the career skills learned in the classroom can be utilized. Participation in a local chapter includes activities designed to expand students' leadership abilities, contextualize their academic instruction, encourage them to pursue their education and equip them with job-related skills in their career field of interest. Students are also able to develop leadership, teamwork, creativity and technical skills.

Students participate in local, state, national and international career-based competitions, aligned with state academic standards, designed to measure their academic understanding and skills development.

Scholarships and awards also encourage students to continue their career-path education and assume personal responsibility for their own career readiness.

By providing students with contextualized academic instruction and the opportunity to work in settings where the career skills learned in the classroom can be utilized, CTSOs effectively facilitate the development of students' academic, technical and employability skills.

ACADEMIC AND TECHNICAL SKILLS

CTSOs apply learning through classroom activities and programs, such as competitive events, that provide unique opportunities to motivate students to demonstrate classroom instruction. CTSOs engage businesses in the education process to identify essential career ready skills.

EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

CTSOs create leaders through the development of 21st Century Skills such as creativity, problem solving, teamwork and goal setting.

STUDENT, COMMUNITY AND BUSINESS ENGAGEMENT

CTSOs enhance student engagement by empowering them in classroom, community and career activities.

EDUCATION ATTAINMENT

According to the National Research Center for Career and Technical Education, participating in leadership and professional development activities in a CTSO raises students' educational aspirations.

Making an Impact

With more than 1.5 million student members combined, CTSOs have a definite impact on students' overall college and career readiness:

Students who participate in CTSOs demonstrate higher levels of academic engagement and motivation, civic engagement, career self-efficacy and employability skills than other students, and the more students participate in CTSO activities, the better the results.

According to the National Research Center for Career and Technical Education, participating in leadership and professional development activities in a CTSO raises students' educational aspirations.

Students who participate in school organizations in 10th grade have higher high school grade point average and are more likely to be enrolled in college at 21 than other students.

ACADEMIC AND TECHNICAL SKILLS

Align with National Curriculum Standards

CTSO programs and activities, such as competitive events, are aligned with National Curriculum Standards in sixteen career clusters recognized by the U.S. Department of Education.

Integrate Into Classroom Instruction

CTSO programs and activities are designed to provide authentic, experiential application of essential skills and knowledge obtained through classroom instruction.

Industry Validated

The sixteen career clusters and their National Curriculum Standards are based on research conducted by and through industries associated with each career cluster.

Assess Classroom Learning

CTSOs use a variety of assessment models that are reflective of industry practices. Each requires the student to apply the knowledge and skills learned in the classroom to industry situations through a variety of assessment techniques such as comprehensive exams, role-plays, presentations, demonstrations and case-studies.

EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

Support 21st Century Skills

CTSO programs and activities develop 21st Century Skills such as collaboration, communications, critical thinking and creativity.

Preparing Future Leaders

CTSO programs and activities provide students with opportunities to assume leadership roles and encourage them to be active citizens.

Emerging Technology

CTSOs keep students at the forefront of technology by ensuring classrooms are up-to-date with the latest productivity-enhancing tools, equipment and curriculum.

STUDENT, COMMUNITY AND BUSINESS ENGAGEMENT

Creating Small Learning Communities

As an example of a highly-effective small learning community, CTSOs bring together students with similar interests and foster a collaborative environment.

Making A Difference In The Community

CTSOs provide students opportunities to develop and participate in community service projects that help them recognize the power they have to make a difference in their communities.

Mentoring Tomorrow's Workforce

CTSO students learn important skills through business and industry partners who serve as mentors through various CTSO programs and activities.

EDUCATION ATTAINMENT

Reaching Goals

CTSOs are the premier example of maximizing student engagement with academic classroom activities to lead to success in college and careers.

Supporting a Program of Study

Career and Technical Education's success lies in its ability to provide rigorous programs of study, relevant knowledge and the ability to develop meaningful and effective relationships.

Enriching Career Opportunities

CTSO programs and activities provide students a clearer idea about their future career path thus engaging them in relevant coursework and co-curricular activities.

Engaging All Students

Regardless of learning style or scholastic aptitude, CTSOs engage all students in the learning process and give them an experience in school that will create a positive impact in their learning process.

Business Partnerships

Career and Technical Student Organizations (CTSOs) engage businesses and industry at the national, state, and local levels. This involvement shows educators and students alike that business cares about their future and helps ensure that education experiences are aligned to the needs of business. Among the nine CTSOs more than 1,000 businesses are actively involved in a variety of ways. Some of the CTSO's major partners are below.
